

FORMER CCBC CATONSVILLE STUDENT ATHLETES IN ORIOLES FARM SYSTEM

Mike Flacco, brother of Baltimore Ravens quarterback Joe Flacco, completed his first season in the Baltimore Orioles farm system in 2009, after playing for CCBC Catonsville in the spring. He batted .272 with 3 home runs and 34 runs batted in for the Bluefield Orioles in the Appalachian Rookie League. Flacco also played in five games for the Delmarva Shorebirds in the Class A South Atlantic League. He is currently headed to the Orioles' Instructional League in Sarasota, FL.

Former CCBC Catonsville right handed pitcher Chorye Spooone recently started a rehab assignment in the Rookie Level Gulf Coast League. He had not pitched since shoulder surgery sidelined him during the 2008 season.
